

Clue: *The wind is blowing strong and cold.
Something is needed to give it hold.
Tall and green in a row,
they also help to keep back the snow.*

Wind Break

Windbreaks are a group of trees that were planted around a farm that provided protection from the wind. Trees in a windbreak are planted in a way that protects the house and barns from the strong winter winds. Farmers sometimes also used windbreaks to create snow drifts on farmland that provided additional water when the snow melted in the spring.

Look at the Farmhouse below. Where would you put a windbreak of trees? Draw it out.
